AIG JAPAN PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT WITH OSAKA PREFECTURE
Establishment of Osaka headquarters signals enhanced partnership utilizing entire group resources

TOKYO, August 26, 2016 – AIG Japan Holdings KK (AJH) (Robert L. Noddin, President and CEO) today reached a partnership agreement with Osaka prefecture encompassing several key areas: the establishment of research and knowledge sharing activities to improve risk management capabilities, the establishment of offices through a prefectural initiative to support foreign companies setting up businesses in Osaka by building a better business environment, the promotion of Kansai International Airport and increased support for small and medium-sized companies.

Coinciding with the establishment of AJH's Osaka headquarters at Grand Front Osaka (located in Kansai Innovation International Strategic Comprehensive Special Zone), the partnership agreement formally signed today is based on a plan that was initially disclosed in November 2015. The signing of today's agreement came about as a result of an existing partnership agreement signed between AIU Insurance Company Ltd. (AIU) and Osaka prefecture in December 2013 outlining the development of insurance coverage specifically for Kansai International Airport and Hanshin Port and the planning of Japan-U.S. high school student exchange sessions.

Augmenting the former agreement, the new agreement with AJH will involve the entire group resources of AIG Japan and broadens the scope of the partnership. New areas covered under today's agreement include the establishment of research and knowledge sharing activities to improve risk management capabilities and the establishment of offices through a prefectural initiative to support foreign companies setting up businesses in Osaka by building a better business environment. As the value of Osaka's dedicated zone for incubating innovation and promoting collaboration becomes more apparent, Osaka's potential as a metropolitan destination attracting businesses and visitors will continue to increase and AJH is excited to be contributing to this new growth.

Further deepening its commitment to this new partnership agreement, AIG Japan will also establish a new research unit in Osaka aimed at improving risk management capabilities throughout Japanese society. This research unit will play a key role in AIG Japan's business strategy and be a knowledge-sharing hub for collaborating with other organizations while offering the added benefit of AIG's globally accumulated risk management expertise.
